

Intelligence That Drives Influence

partnrUP is where artificial intelligence meets human intelligence. Having powered hundreds of successful campaigns on our own platform, we know what it takes to scale creator marketing without the cost or time of building a full in-house team.

Our four AI Agents handle the heavy lifting — from sourcing and recruiting to managing and measuring creators — while our experienced services team adds the white glove expertise to guide strategy, optimize performance, and deliver results.

The outcome? A smarter partnership that helps you launch faster, scale more efficiently, and achieve measurable impact — all without the overhead of hiring and managing a dedicated marketing department.
